JOANN RYAN

I am constantly reminded of the dedication of the Chamber leaders, collaborators, members, friends and staff. It is evident as we embark in on a campaign to gain additional awareness.

With the input and efforts of our Board of Directors, Corporate partners, Premier Members, and outstanding staff, we continue to dedicate ourselves to the accomplishment of our mission to promote economic growth while enhancing the quality of life in Northwest Connecticut. Our goal is to increase the business, economic, educational, cultural and civic opportunities available within this corner of the state.

It is imperative that we inform one and all of our goals to live this mission. I keep on writing this monthly article for the Chamber Newsletter; we will be working with the Chairman of our Board to increase our presence on radio, video, live streaming, newspaper; monthly newsletter; the Chamber's website; the Annual membership guide and meeting you in person. You will hear about the programs, events and benefits of working together so that we can tackle the challenges together.

You will be learning more and more about the valuable resources available throughout the region and the benefits of each. The knowledge we gain in higher education is limitless as we take advantage of college courses through the Connecticut State Colleges & Universities. Our horizons have broadened as we strengthen our alliance with CSCU in promoting the value of higher education at all stages of one's life.

We could not possibly plan and participate in the myriad of activities and events if it were not for the wonderful volunteers who surround us. I marvel at their skill in working at their full-time jobs while finding the time and energy to volunteer for the worthwhile causes that we promote. You will find their enthusiasm contagious as they assist us with our Membership Services Committee, our Government Relations Committee, the Chamber Insurance Trust, the Leads Groups, the Leadership Northwest Advisory Committee; and the special committees assisting us with our big events. WOW! It is still a favorite and strong. It is really the important relationships developed over the years that bring out the best in us all.

We have experienced the highs and lows, the laughter and tears, and wins and losses. Through it all, the firm conviction remains that there are wonderful possibilities awaiting us and there are few things in life that cannot be tackled successfully. Thank you for being an integral part of our Chamber.

PS – As summer winds down and I recuperate from a neck injury, just want to thank you for your continuing support and kind wishes. I'm in the office full time, but unable to drive until full recovered. Look forward to seeing all of you very soon. Be sure to check our calendar for events and programs. Of course, you will want to join us with your colleagues throughout September. Please remember to register for the 19th Anniversary of the WOW Forum on October 6th.

Jessica's Story: Hope Blooms at CHH's New Healing Garden

Like many patients receiving cancer treatment at the hospital, Jessica Stewart couldn't wait to just go home.

"I spent a few months going back and forth to Charlotte Hungerford Hospital (CHH) for treatments and I couldn't get out of the building fast enough," shares Stewart, a Fit Together health and wellness coordinator and five-year breast cancer survivor.

"Patients just want to go in, get their care, and be done with it. But on my journey, I met so many amazing, kind-hearted people from CHH and my community—and I really wanted to give back."

As she continued through her treatments, Stewart began distributing comfort bags to CHH cancer patients to "help them feel loved." For Stewart, it was a way to find peace and purpose in her therapy process. Then, in October 2022, she organized the 1st Annual Charlotte Hungerford Hospital's Pink Rose Fund Chili Cook-Off, a community event that raised over $6,000 to support CHH's breast cancer program and patients.

Throughout her volunteerism, Stewart kept thinking she wanted to create something beautiful and sustainable, and the result was a Healing Garden located outside of the hospital's Radiation Therapy Center on Kennedy Drive. Thanks to in-kind donations of plants and soil from local businesses, farms, and community members; including Jeff Geddes of Torrington Savings Bank, Susan Smith of the Cancer Care Fund of the Litchfield Hills, and Carol Dauphinais of Mack and Twine Farms; as well as the efforts of several gardening volunteers from inside and outside of the hospital—Stewart's vision was realized as Charlotte Hungerford Hospital celebrated its new Healing Garden with everyone who made it possible.

"The response to our new Healing Garden has been extremely positive," shares John Capobianco, Senior Vice President, Northwest Region, Hartford HealthCare. "It's always inspiring when former patients continue their relationship with our hospital through volunteerism and community fundraising. This project is particularly special as Jessica leveraged her health and wellness expertise to help our patients eat healthy—which is very critical in the fight against cancer."

Outside of tending to the Healing Garden, Stewart is now preparing for the 2nd Annual Pink Rose Fund Chili Cook-Off, which is set to take place October 20, 2023, at Bad Dog Brewing Company in Torrington. Jess has set a goal of raising $10,000 this year and all proceeds from the event will benefit the CHH Pink Rose Fund and the cancer patients the fund supports.

Fraud and Cyber Security Threats Seminar Presented by M & T Bank

Leigh Balcom, Vice President,
Financial Crimes Manager at M&T Bank

Leigh Balcom, Vice President, Financial Crimes Manager at M&T Bank presented an eye-opening Fraud and Cyber Security Threats to Business Seminar on August 1st in our Chamber's Conference Room. Here's some of what we learned:

- 91% of cyber attacks start as phishing emails
- Cyber thieves enter the back end of your computer and study your behaviors so they can send an email to someone you know while appearing to be you
- Beware of emails giving instruction to change bank accounts; call the sender of the email to verify that the email came from them
- Most issues are human error, so review transactions regularly
- Transactions using payment apps such as Venmo and Zelle can't be reversed, so make sure that you know where the money is going
- One of the biggest targets is Real Estate; there are lots of parties involved
- Do not reuse passwords; create a new one for each of your financial sites

Leigh may be reached at LBalcom@mtb.com or 716-343-6371

Member NEWSPARTNERSHIP FORMED TO COORDINATE USE OF $1.2 MILLION FEDERAL GRANT FUNDS TO IMPROVE ACCESS TO BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SERVICES FOR YOUTHS

The Northwest Hills Council of Governments (NHCOCG) received a $1.2 million federal grant to support mental healthcare for teens in the northwest corner of Connecticut.

Awarded by the Health Resources and Services Administration's Rural Health Network Development grant program, the federal government allocated a total of 44 such grants nationwide, and NHCOCG is the only organization in Connecticut to ever receive one.

The regional planning body that coordinates services across 21 towns in the region, NHCOCG established the Northwest Hills Community Health Network of Connecticut (NHCHN-CT) to create a network of care designed to improve access to behavioral health and case management services for teens between the ages 13 to 18. Partners in this four-year initiative include Community Health & Wellness Center of Greater Torrington, the McCall Behavioral Health Network, and Greenwoods Counseling & Referrals.

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), depression, anxiety and behavioral disorders are among the leading causes of illness and disability among adolescents, and suicide is the fourth leading cause of death among 15 – 29-year-olds.

The target population for NHCHN-CT's initiative is the estimated 12,250 youth ages 13-18 in Litchfield County. Youth in the county are experiencing anxiety, depression, suicidal ideation, other disorders, or toxic stress. Together, network members will achieve efficiencies, expand access to, coordinate, and improve the quality of behavioral health services and associated health outcomes.

"The Northwest Hills Community Health Network of Connecticut will address one of the area's most critical health care needs and provide improved access to behavioral health and case management services," said Leonardo Ghio, project director, NHCOCG.

For more information, contact: Leonardo Ghio, Lghio@northwesthillscog.org, 860-419-9884, www.northwesthillscog.org.
